- Project Title: Food and Agriculture Service Learning Program
- Funder: USDA, National Institutes of Food and Agriculture
- Description: Food and Agriculture Service Learning Programs are intended to increase the capacity for food, garden, and nutrition education while fostering higher levels of community engagement between farms and school systems. The initiative is part of a broader effort to not only increase access to school meals for low-income individuals, but also to dramatically improve their quality. Activities may include expanding experiential or agriculture-based learning opportunities, such as the creation of school gardens, support to ag/food clubs, or increased exposure to on-farm activities.

Grant News:

Grant Writing Tip:

An effective problem or need statement guides proposal development and keeps it on the right track. When defining the problem or need, ask yourself the following questions:

- What is the situation motivating you to take action?
- Who or what is being affected and how?
- Why does the situation matter?
- What will happen if no action is taken?
- What caused the situation to arise?

Grant Compliance Tip:

The GDO is available to assist with all areas of grant project implementation and management. Please feel free to reach out to the GDO at your convenience.
